

Legal Aid Tech Stack (a Database)

Where once the case book used to be a standard piece of equipment and decor for law offices, modern law offices rely on their tech stack to get things done. So, we have begun assembling this database for legal aid organizations to use as a springboard for their research on what technology product they could use to complete gaps in their tech stack or to replace aging solutions.

Expand the view by clicking "View Larger Version" at the bottom of the window. Use the filter to narrow the list to the type of technology. Step by step directions about using the embedded airtable are available in the pdf below.

Help us add to the database by submitting suggestions in the form below. (If you are a legal tech company or service provider, use the form here instead).
