

Consumer Self-Help Solutions

Today, we are launching our next crowdsourced database which will focus on technology based consumer self-help solutions. These may be things such as web based information hubs, online portals, or websites that help consumers complete paperwork. Examples include Upsolve, the Filing Fairness Project, or Michigan Legal Help. If it is out there and designed to help consumers with legal issues, we want to know about it and include it in the database. Once we have a good number of resources available, we will release the database as a resource for everyone. If you would like to contribute to the database, please fill out our form.
