Technology Innovations for Civil Legal Aid Clients and Victims of Crime: Stronger Together

Over the past two decades, the LSC TIG program has seeded civil legal aid technology innovations in nearly every state in the country. More recently, the Vision 21 program within the Department of Justice has funded technology initiatives to reach under-served victims of crime, often in partnership with legal aid. What is the relationship between these efforts, and how can programs build complementary strategies that leverage existing online resources available through legal aid? This webinar will highlight examples of DOJ-funded technology innovations developed in partnership with legal aid programs, and that help to increase awareness and adoption of civil legal aid resources. Panelists will also highlight funding opportunities in this space, and offer suggestions for enhancing collaboration at the state level.?
